Since this a single operator query (`Select()`), use method syntax.

2.

Write a query-syntax query that selects elements containing a space and returns the index of the space in each element. For example, instead of `"D. Va"` , the result should contain `2` .

Hint ⌄

Since this is a multiple operator query (`where` and `select`), use query syntax.

When writing your query:

Use `Contains()` in your `where` clause to check whether an element contains a space.

Use `IndexOf()` in your `select` clause to find the index of the space.

3.

Print out all of the elements of both query results to check your work.

Hint ⌄

Use two `foreach` loops — one for each query.
